Source One, the leading Ipswich-based office furniture and interiors company, has recently completed a contract to furnish the offices of Soler and Palau's new purpose-built premises on Ransomes Europark.

The building is a modern, state-of-the-art structure and the interior and office furniture was specified to match the look of the building.

Lisa Roberts, operations director of Source One, explained: "We were introduced to Soler and Palau through personal recommendation at a very early stage in the project. We spent a lot of time working closely with the directors to get a feel for how Soler and Palau wanted to work in their new building."

All the furniture for the offices, boardroom, conference room and other areas was supplied by Source One and manufactured in the UK by Source One's many suppliers. The modern design matched the atmosphere of the interior. Colours were carefully chosen to blend in with the internal walls to create a modern, clean environment.

Soler and Palau are world leaders and specialists in the design, development and manufacture of air-moving fans and appliances for domestic, commercial, industrial, agricultural and other specialist applications.

Commenting on Source One's approach and service, Harvey Bantin, operations manager for Soler and Palau, said: "Being a global company we had to maintain a corporate image. Source One took this brief on board and, with great care came, up with a number of interesting and workable solutions.

"We are delighted with the final result which was completed on time and within budget, all with a very agreeable approach from Source One and their team."

Lisa Roberts added: "Once again, we are pleased to have provided a stunning environment for our client. As usual, our service and advice was free of charge – all the plans and drawings provided under our free planning and design service. This is available to any business, large or small who may require the service when moving offices or reorganising their current situation.

"The team at Soler and Palau were also great to deal with and made the project enjoyable as well as productive."
