

Boost for interiors specialist

Ipswich based office interiors company Source One continues to grow with the appointment of a new sales director, the opening of a new branch, a sponsorship deal and a prestigious contract win

SAYS Pat Lewis, managing director: "Our experience of working with clients, in which call handling is part of their business, has led us to be chosen by Ansaback to supply our products and services."

Ansaback, are a 24/7, 365 days a year, business call handling contact centre. Operating from their own UK call centre based in Ipswich, Ansaback supply a wide range of professional telephone answering solutions, giving their clients a bespoke call answering services tailored to precise requirements.

Pat adds: "Once again, our quality client service has led us to be chosen for this contract. We go further than just supplying desks and chairs. It is the way we approach our work and interact with our clients that we believe, make us different."

This approach and the resultant success had led to the appointment of a new sales director who will cover Source One's business that is further afield. Recent contract wins in Manchester and Mansfield have enabled Source One to open a branch in Nottingham which is perfectly placed to service these contracts.

Source One's roots are in Ipswich and Pat has been an avid fan of Ipswich Town since boyhood. This love of the local team has allowed Source One to become an associate sponsor of the ITFC Academy set up, sponsoring their brochure for this season, and also kit sponsor for Jimmy Bullard, recently signed by Ipswich on loan. "Come On You Blues!"
